WHAT DOES ROGER FROM SPARETIME DO IN HIS SPARE TIME?

I started in January 2017 as the second half of Sparetime Supply's I.T. department. I can usually be found spending time with friends and family or out in the garden, which is probably how I spend most of my spare time. I'm also an avid gamer. I started playing Magic the Gathering back in the early 90's. I don't play much Magic anymore, but I still have a handful of old decks to play with when the occasion arises. I started playing Dungeons & Dragons in the late 90's, and still play Pathfinder with close friends every week. The Legend of Zelda was one of my favorite game series growing up. These days, Star Citizen (a game still in the alpha stage of release) takes up most of my gaming time. I look forward to what the future will bring in modern gaming. A few years ago, a neighbor got me started making mead at home, and I have been doing it ever since. With each batch I'm learning to improve my process and product. In the last couple years the cranberry mead has been my signature recipe. The latest batch was a big hit at the Christmas Party, or at least I think it was. There wasn't any left by time I had to leave, so it couldn't have been that bad!
